COUNTY PRETTY SURE TO RECEIVE SOME INTEREST

Candidates For Treasurer Committed on Public Funds

BIG LOSS TO THE BANKS

Individual Interests Have Profited Heretofore at Expense of Taxpayers

With the candidates for county treasurer on both the Republican and Fusion tickets practically committed to secure interest for all idle county funds that may be in the hands of the treasurer when the successor to the present incumbent is installed into office, as well as a demand for such a proceeding by the platforms of both parties, it is pretty sure that the county will receive some compensation for public money that is not now working except for the profit of the bank in which it happens to be deposited. The condition this year of more than half a million dollars in the treasury for a considerable length of time which draws no interest for the county made this feature an issue, and all the candidates virtually promised, some of them rather ambiguously, to be sure that the money would be placed where it would do the most good for the county, in case each was elected to handle it.

Although some of these ambiguous promises were capable of a wide construction, and as the law does not compel the treasurer to get interest on idle public funds, it is in line with well established business principles to do so. For this reason both the party and the candidates acquiseed to the public demand for compensation for that which is a big souce of profit to the banks It is now up to the banks of the county to make some sort of a proposition, either to get together and divide up the benefits of having the public money on deposit, or else compete for the privilege.

In view of the scant demand for money by desirable creditors many of the banks have an abundance of idle money and the rate of interest offered for the deposit of the county funds may be rather low. Two per cent is paid for the deposit of the general county fund, which is the same rate as the banks over the State pay for the deposit of the State funds. In this section most of the banks pay four per cent for time and savings deposits and it is a question whether or not any of them would care to accept the county funds on certificates of deposit and pay four per cent on the same. It has been rumored in banking circles that many of the in-

CHURCHMEN GET INTO POLITICS

Methodists Have Spirited Contests for Representatives to Conference

CARDS ARE CIRCULATED

Ministers and laymen have been engaging in an interesting contest at the Pittsburg annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church this week at Wilkinsburg, which has all the marks of a political campaign. The contests are in the election of representatives consisting of six ministers and six laymen to attend the quadrennial conference of the Methodist church to be held in Minneapolis next May. Campaign cards have been circulated. Possibly the best known name on them is that of A. M. Schroyer, general superintendent of the Pennsylvania Lines West. He is conducting a business like campaign. Others who are seeking the honors and who are known in this section are W. F. Richardson of Betleyville, J.G.S. Chalfant of Speers and Claude E. Towner of Monongahela.

ANNOUNCEMENT IS MADE OF WEDDING

Miss Carrie Porter, the popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Porter, of Washington avenue, and Charles B. Richards, also of Charleroi, were very quietly married at Aspinwall last Friday. Announcement has just been made. They will for the present reside at 529 Washington avenue, the home of the bride's parents.

Leaving unostentatiously and unknown to their friends the couple proceeded to Aspinwall last Friday where a minister performed the ceremony. After visiting briefly in Pittsburg with the mother of the groom, Mrs. Mary Richards, formerly of Charleroi, the couple came to Charleroi.

Mr. Richards is employed by the Armour Packing company as a salesman and is a much respected young man. His bride is an estimable young woman and is a favorite among a large circle of acquaintances.

Columbus Day.

Thursday, October 12, being a legal holiday in Pennsylvania the banks in Charleroi will not be open for business on that date.

GOVERNOR AT AUSTIN

Chief Executive Horrified at Conditions at Flooded Place

ACTION IS DEMANDED

As a result of Governor J. K. Tener's visit to the scene of the great flood disaster at Austin this week criminal prosecutions may develop from the testimony that will be presented at the inquest District Attorney Harry N. Nelson of Potter county wil hold today in the death of the men, women and children who lost their lives in the flood.

Startling evidence that for nearly two years before it burst on last Saturday the Bayless dam was a constant menace to the thriving towns of Austin and Costello, the ruins of which are still strewn over five miles of the Sinnemahoning valley, is now in the possession of the State authorities.

"There will be a thorough investigation made by the State of the causes leading up to the collapse of the dam," Governor Tener said, after he had looked over the great sections of shattered concrete wall that are all that are left of the Bayless dam. "The State of Pennsylvania will see that justice is done to these poor people who have lost their dear ones and their homes.

"The spectacle I have witnessed has indeed, been a sad one and I have been deeply touched by the distress and destruction which followed the flood. The State will do eveything within its power to care for the families that have survived the disaster and to see that they are properly supplied with shelter, food and clothing."

Rain was falling from the sombre skies as the Governor walked along the mounds of debris or gazed on the valley of sorrow and devastation from the mountain sides. With him was Dr. Samuel G. Dioxn, the State Health Commissioner; Adjutant General Stewart, General Fleitz, of the State

Charleroi and Monessen Lodges Join in Celebration

TWO ADDRESSES MADE

William Hamilton and Geo. W. Montgomery of Pittsburg, Are Speakers.

Members of the Masonic fraternity from Charleroi and Monessen together with a number of members of other fraternities celebrated the 125th anniversary of the organization of the Pennsylvania Grand Lodge. Held under the auspices of Charleroi Lodge No. 615 and Monessen Lodge No. 638, the affair was one of the brilliaant functions of the year given by Masons. About 250 were present, many coming from distant parts of the State and from other States as well.

A pleasing program had been arranged and it was rendered under the direction of Charles S. McKean, worshipful master of the Charleroi lodge, This program consisted of music and addresses. The Masonic male quartet, from Monessen, consisting of James K. Boyd, Eli H. Wolfe, Calvin W. Stuck and George R. Helmbolt rendered a number of selections and. were generously received.

The first speaker on the program was William H. Hamilton of Pittsburg, district deputy grand master, and he spoke on the subject "The Day We Celebrate." His talk was on the theme of the history of the Pennsylvania grand lodge and among the facts mentioned by him was that the grand lodge of this state is the oldest in America. It formerly took in New York and New Jersey, but now both those states have grand lodges of their own.

George W. Montgomery of Verona Lodge No. 548 spoke on "The Freemason in the Community in Which We Live." His talk was one full of interest to the Masons.

As a fitting conclusion to the evening's program a buffet lunch was served consisting of sandwiches, cake ice cream, coffee and other appetizing dainties.

Surprise on Birthday.

Miss Margaret Martin of Belle Vernon, was tendered a pleasant surprise party at the Province Hotel, Belle Vernon Thursday evening in honor of her 21st birthday. A number of out-of-town guests were present and an evening of enjoyment was spent. Persons present from Charleroi were Frank Taylor, Leslie Woodward, Robert Hess, Lee Honsaker, Mrs. William Evans and two children, Mr. and Mrs Charles Stroud. Miss Martin received a number of beautiful and useful presents.

POSTPONE MEETING OF BUSINESS MEN

Owing to the Masonic celebration held by the Charleroi and Monessen lodges here Thursday night there was hardly a quorum present for the regularly scheduled meeting of the Business Men's Association. Adjournment was taken to some f uture time when the regular business will be taken up.

A COMPARISON.

John E. Gable, who for fifteen months has been editor of the Washington Record, has resigned his position there to take the managerial chair of the Johnstown Leader, a new daily newspaper that is to be launched in the flood city.. "By way of farewell," as Mr. Gable terms it he takes a parting shot at the Washington school board, the council, and other borough and county affairs. His valedictory to the school board and council is interesting, and might be used with profit as a comparison in Charleroi and any other municipality, for that matter. Along this line Mr. Gable says:

"The school board under the old law, was a good board. The new board, under the new code, should be better. To some the old board made progress too speedily. To others it appeared to be too slow, or even reactionary. That was a good sign. In the nation we have generally discovered that taking it by the large we are an aggregation of progressive standpatters and that we are glad of it. A school district is fortunate to be of the same temper. The prober who goes into the records will be astonished to find that the system which he thought was stationary, or retrogressive, has really been moving along just as rapidly as good judgment would warrant.. In school affairs he must discover at once that the new code stands for an awakened public interest, and that it is the instrument by which tremendous improvement shall come in due time. But the man who is interested in schools has no more right to expect a new law to bring immediate revolution or evolution than the man is interested in good roads would have in demanding that the roads appear instanter when an appropriation is made. The school board was, and is now, a little in advance of the great public, but the board and the people are not so widely separated that either can lose sight of the other Both are truly progressive.

"The same conservative harmony exists largely between the people and borough and the county officers, but there is no such general interest in the routine work of the borough council as there is in the details of school government. The result is a less progressive council. It lacks the modern and correct view particularly in that it fails to keep the people fully informed as to its objects. It shows frequently that it prefers to work with the least noise or publicity and its system of handling important questions, such as franchises, tax levies and assessments, appropriations and large contracts is deplorably behind the times. Its rules are obsolete and its organization largely a farce. No great change, however, need be looked for until permanent and general results are secured throughout the entire state by a legislative revision of the form of government for boroughs of the size of Washington or until Washington makes up its mind to accept the excellent charter now provided for cities of the third class. During the last session of the General Assembly, when a fine bill for boroughs was pending, the people of Washington showed absolute indifference to its fate. This was largely due to the fact that they were not advised as to the advantages of a change. It was plain that the councilmen would be the last men in the town to see to it that such information was given, although probably every member of council will privately admit that the present system of government for the town is much poorer than the town deserves to have. This lack of genuine public interest in council, and the absence of such interest in the council for the public, is doubtless more apparent than real but something needs to be done now to make sure that by next fall the town will know whether it wants to instruct its representatives at Harrisburg to get definite results.

"The worst feature about the lack of active interest is that borough officials will naturally conclude that the public wants no real voice in its own affairs. Your councilmen now are good men, as are your borough officers, but they do not know what you want, and neither do you. The burgess is not exercising the powers which rightfully belong to his office. The chief of police has for years been handicapped by lack of authority and by a bad system which prevents the borough magistrates from disposing promptly of many petty cases now sent to court. The borough engineer should virtually be a director of public works, with full executive and administrative control of the streets and highways and all borough property leaving to council only its proper Legislative function. That there should be a radical change in the sytem of collecting, disbursing and accounting for borough taxes is generally admitted, but the admission indicates no real progress toward reform. A thorough understanding of the borough finances is essential to good administration. This the people do not now have and in the light of some official business it appears to be fairly doubtful if the councilmen themselves have it."

Some of Mr. Gable's recommendations are already in force in Charleroi, such as the borough engineer acting in the capacity so far as possible of a public director. Charleroi was the first to institute this important borough function, and her example is what perhaps inspired Mr. Gable's remarks along that line. The Charleroi council has also installed a system of accounting and auditing that is most simple and comprehensive, and which is being widely copied by other neighboring boroughs. The other reforms, such as better methods of collecting taxes, will have to come by Legislative enactment,

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"It was my duty not long ago to visit a purchasing board of a certain West Virginia college to sell them some goods," said a traveling salesman who stepped in the Mail office, "and while there I ran up against an experience that taught me a lesson in human nature. It also taught me a little common sense

"You know a traveling salesman's long suit most generally is telling stories. There were about seven on the purchasing board and after the list of purchases had been made out I sailed merrily in to relate a few anecdotes. The first ones would pass at a Sunday School rally but as I got into the spirit of the thing and the members of the board were beginning to laugh as though they enjoyed it, I tackled something a little more classic.

"Then I pulled a number that wouldn't pass at all in a religious gathering. At the last story the members of the board nearly split their sides, and I thought I had made a good impression.

"Going back to the hotel, I told my experiences of the day to a friend and he was horrified.

"'You certainly didn't tell those rotten stories to that board did you,?' he demanded.

"'Certainly, why not? They enjoyed them.'

"Well you're the limit. That was a bunch of Methodist ministers.'

"Then I recollected that it was the board of the West Virginia Wesleyan that had made the purchases and I made a few deductions. I was horrified and needless to say hastily shook the dust of that neighborhood from my feet. But it was necessary for me to go back some months afterwards and I met the president of the board on the street. As I was about to back up a side alley he laughed and remarked:

"'Well, have you any more jokes to tell us?"'

There's a little lad down on Fallowfield avenue—a four-year-old who can discount the experiences of Benjamin Franklin in paying too dear for his whistle by 100 per cent, and then some, when it comes to making a deal. The other day the little fellow who was visiting his grandmother, was given a whistle with liberty to go out in the front yard and blow it to his heart's content. After being absent awhile he returned, minus his whistle, but full of enthusiasm over a deal he had made.

"Oh, Grandma," he exclaimed, "I'm going to have another whistle. A boy came along and said if I'd give him my whistle he'd give me two whistles when he got some, so I give him mine, and now I'm going to get two."

BALD HEADS NOT WANTED

Baldness is Too Generally Considered a Sign of Advanced Age

A bald-headed person does not have an equal chance with one blessed with a healthy head of hair, because baldness is too generally accepted as an indication of age. Many large corporations have established an age limit and refuse to take men over 35 years of age as new employes.

Probably 65 per cent of bald-headed people may regain a good head of healthy hair if they will follow our advice and accept our offer. We have a remedy that we positively guarantee to grow hair on any head, unless the roots of the hair are entirely dead their follicles closed and the scalp has become glazed and shiny. We want people to try this remedy at our risk, with the distinct understanding that unless it does exactly what we claim it will and gives satisfastion in every respect, we shall make no charge for the remedy used during the trial.

We know exactly what we are talking about and with this offer back of our statements no one should scoff doubt our word, or hesitate to put our remedy to an actual test.

We want every one in Charleroi who is suffering from any scalp or hair trouble, dandruff, falling hair or baldness to try our Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We want them to use it regularly—say until three bottles have been used—and if it does not eradicate dandruff, cleanse and refresh the scalp, tighten the hair in its roots, and grow new hair, we will return every cent paid us for the remedy for the mere asking. There is no formality expected, and we exact no obligation from the user whatever.

We are established right here in Charleroi and make this offer with a full understanding that our business success entirely depends upon the sort of treatment we accord our customers and we would not dare make the above offer unless we were positively certain that we could substantiate it ine every particular. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store. Carroll's Drug Store, 623 Fallowfield avenue, Charleroi.

Water Commission; State Highway Commissioner Bigelow and other State officials.

"This is terrible," remarked the Governor, as he stood upon the verge of the valley and looked out upon the great heaps of wreckage, all that is left of the major portion of the town of Austin.

During his tour of the valley the Governor visited the Northern Pennsylvania Hospital, which is perched high upon a mountain slope overlooking the devastated valley. He went to the bedside of the men and women who had limbs broken or had otherwise been seriously injured as the flood raced down from the broken dam. He grasped each one by the hand and expressed a word of sympathy.

The men who have just taken a complete census of survivors and missing have placed the original number of the latter at 75 and according to their figures with 44 bodies already released from the clutch of the debris, not more than 31 more are scattered through it. Some of the latter may never be recovered, having either been burned to a crisp or buried under tons of mud and refuse.

The Easy Laxative

TRIALAX.

Speaks for Itself

Mothers and Fathers! No doubt your children often get constipated and you wonder what to give them. You hate to give them something that is hard to take because they are your children. Now if you will go to your druggist and ask for a trial package of The Easy Laxative Trialax for only 10c we are sure your children will eat them with delight and obtain very best results, as they work easily. 4

A Good Recommendation

The conservative methods of this bank and its record of nearly 13 years of successful banking, as well as the courteous treatment you will receive to make all your relations with this institution satisfactory and pleasant, are our best recommendation.

These women are only a few of thousands of living witnesses of the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases. Not one of these women ever received compensation in any form for the use of their names in this advertisement—but are willing that we should refer to them because of the good they may do other suffering women to prove that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a reliable and honest medicine, and that the statements made in our advertisements regarding its merit are the truth and nothing but the truth.

Quaker Slang.

A visitor to Philadelphia, unfamiliar with the garb of the Society of Friends, was much interested in two demure and placid Quakeresses who took seats directly behind her in the Broad street station. After a few minutes' silence she was somewhat startled to hear a gentle voice inquire: "Sister Kate, will thee go to the counter and have a milk punch on me?"—Lippincott's.

A Physician's Report on Tuberculosis Medicine

"Have used Eckman's Alterative in several cases of tubercular glands of the neck, with excellent results every time. In one case it cost me $50, for the girl was put on it only until she could arrange to be operated, and in a short time an operation was not needed. I suppose your records are just as fine as of old. You know my faith in it."

Eckman's Alterative is effective in other forms. Read what Mrs. Garvin says:—
Idaho Falls, Idaho.

"Gentlemen: I have gained twenty-two pounds since last February and my baby is in perfect health. She is now four months old. I have been waiting since she was born to see how I would get along. I am now doing all my work, have been ever since she was four weeks old, and I am steadily gaining. I do not cough or raise anything at all. I believe my lung trouble is cured."
(Signed Affidavit) MRS. M. H. GARVIN.

Note—Mrs. Garvin is the mother of seven children

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever; Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. FRIDAY AFTERNOON CLUB ENTERTAINS IN HONOR OF TWO

Yesterday the Friday afternoon 500 club entertained in the parlor of the Elks Home in honor of Miss Laura M. Brown and Miss Hettie Davis, who will leave this month for their new home in Toledo. It is with keenest regret the friends of the Brown family see them depart from Charleroi, and many social affairs are occurring these autumn days to show in a measure the deep esteem in which those to depart soon are held by Charleron people. Seven tables were called into requisition and 28 ladies spent a most delightful afternoon. Refreshments were served by the chef at the Elks Club. After refreshments the members of the club presented Miss Brown with a handsome gold chain and pendant and Miss Davis with a gold bar pin as a memento of admiration and friendship for the honor guests. As a reward for attaining higest score, trophies were awarded Mrs. R. C. Mountsier, Mrs. Alden O. Davis and Mrs. James Sheppard.

TO GIVE AWAY WESTERN FARMS

California and Texas Lands to be Disposed of at Pittsburg Land Show

PRODUCTS ARRIVING

It will be of special interest to farmers and suburbanites in the Pittsburg territory to be informed that two Western farms will be given away during Pittsburg's Second Big Land Show in the Duquesne Garden from October 12 to 28. One of the farms is in the irrigated section of the Sacramento Valley, not a great distance from San Francisco, and the other is in one of the most fertile sections of Texas. Every visitor to the Land Show will have a chance in the drawings by which these farms will be disposed of. Both are of course, the donation of land interests that will have magnificent displays in this show, and both farms will be of such character and value as to positively justify the lucky owners in settling upon them at once, and taking up farm life and living, if this should be in harmony with their tastes. Further details about these free gifts will be published on the eve of the show. It is possible that a third free farm in Wyoming may yet be added to the attractions of the Land Show, but there is nothing definite to be said on this point now.

A telegram from Cheyene announces that two cars of Wyoming products are now ready for the land show, and will be shipped not later than October 6th. Six cars of West Virginia products are already in Pittsburg awaiting the opening of the show.

The staff of decorators preparing Duquesne Garden for the Land Show have been at work for a week, and when they shall have concluded their task, by the date of the opening, the Garden will comprise a collection of wonderful beauty from all quarters of this great country.

stitutions in the Pittsburg district would like to reduce the rate of interest on savings and time deposits to three per cent. As many of these banks are carrying large loans at five per cent, the margin of profit on funds drawing four per cent is rather narrow. This is particularly the case just now when the demand for desirable loans is limited.

In regard to the county funds, it is altogether probable that the big end of the $500,000 bond issue for road construction will be carried over until next year. The reason that this does not now draw interest is because the county treasurer did not promise it, or rather he made no contract with the county through the board of commissioners to pay interest on money that came into his custody other than through the usual sources of taxation.. If what is carried over of the bond issue until next year were offered to the banks in the ordinary course of business that pay four per cent on time deposits and certificates of deposits taken out for a specified time, it is difficult to see how any bank could well refuse the ordinary rate of interest. On the other hand if the money is put up for bids the banks may form a "gentleman's agreement" and bid a lower rate

If the new treasurer, whoever he [illegible] would handle the funds for the interest of the county the same as he would if working for a private corporation or himself, he is likely to get more compensation for the public than if an effort is made before hand to establish a method of proceedure and fix a rate of interest. Left to his own devices, provided he would do so, the treasurer could undoubtedly by transacting the business in the same manner as an ordinary individual get four per cent for the county on all the idle funds that might be in his hands. The borough of Charleroi gets four per cent on a sinking fund it is accumulating for the payment of a bond issue, and all that was necessary to secure it was to deposit the money in the savings department of one of the local banks the same as an ordinary individual.

It is expected that there will be some interesting developments when the question comes up for adjustment after the new treasurer is installed into office.

Would the Ones Who Need the Articles be Enlightened?

WE THINK SO

Suppose some enterprising clothing store in Charleroi picked over its odds and ends of UNDERWEAR and advertised them at closing out prices at this season of the year, would the mothers who are watching the corners to conserve the family income take advantage of the opportunity?

Ask the Ladies Who Conduct Rummage Sales for Church Benefits

Would not the hosts of anxious mothers who are scanning the Pittsburg papers, morning and evening, for the odds and ends bargains to fit out their children for the winter rather buy this stuff at home instead of sending by messenger away for it?

Give Them the Opportunity and Note Results

You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink. People want what their pocket books can stand; not what the dealer thinks he would like to sell at a certain price.

The Way to Get Business is to Cater to the People and Offer Them What They Want and Can Pay For

This is why the big department store of the city cuts into the trade of the local dealer. The big store does not try to set a standard as to what goods the people shall buy. It carries what poor people can buy to make them comfortable. Local stores can do the same.

DANDRUFF AND ITCHING SCALP YIELD TO ZEMO TREATMENT

COUNTY PRETTY SURE TO RECEIVE SOME INTEREST

Candidates For Treasurer Committed on Public Funds

BIG LOSS TO THE BANKS

Individual Interests Have Profited Heretofore at Expense of Taxpayers

With the candidates for county treasurer on both the Republican and Fusion tickets practically committed to secure interest for all idle county funds that may be in the hands of the treasurer when the successor to the present incumbent is installed into office, as well as a demand for such a proceeding by the platforms of both parties, it is pretty sure that the county will receive some compensation for public money that is not now working except for the profit of the bank in which it happens to be deposited. The condition this year of more than half a million dollars in the treasury for a considerable length of time which draws no interest for the county made this feature an issue, and all the candidates virtually promised, some of them rather ambiguously, to be sure that the money would be placed where it would do the most good for the county, in case each was elected to handle it.

Although some of these ambiguous promises were capable of a wide construction, and as the law does not compel the treasurer to get interest on idle public funds, it is in line with well established business principles to do so. For this reason both the party and the candidates acquiseed to the public demand for compensation for that which is a big souce of profit to the banks It is now up to the banks of the county to make some sort of a proposition, either to get together and divide up the benefits of having the public money on deposit, or else compete for the privilege

In view of the scant demand for money by desirable creditors many of the banks have an abundance of idle money and the rate of interest offered for the deposit of the county funds may be rather low. Two per cent is paid for the deposit of the general county fund, which is the same rate as the banks over the State pay for the deposit of the State funds in this section most of the banks pay four per cent for time and savings deposits and it is a question whether or not any of them would care to accept the county funds on certificates of deposit and pay four per cent on the same. It has been rumored in banking circles that many of the in-

CHURCHMEN GET INTO POLITICS

Methodists Have Spirited Contests for Representatives to Conference

CARDS ARE CIRCULATED

Ministers and laymen have been engaging in an interesting contest at the Pittsburg annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church this week at Wilkinsburg, which has all the marks of a political campaign. The contests are in the election of representatives consisting of six ministers and six laymen to attend the quadrennial conference of the Methodist church to be held in Minneapolis next May. Campaign cards have been circulated Possibly the best known name on them is that of A M Schroyer, general superintendent of the Pennsylvania Lines West. He is conducting a business like campaign. Others who are seeking the honors and who are known in this section are W. F. Richardson of Betleyville, J.G S Chalfant of Speers and Claude E Towner of Monongahela.

ANNOUNCEMENT IS MADE OF WEDDING

Miss Carrie Porter, the popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Porter, of Washington avenue, and Charles B. Richards, also of Charleroi, were very quietly married at Aspinwall last Friday. Announcement has just been made. They will for the present reside at 529 Washington avenue, the home of the bride's parents.

Leaving unostentatiously and unknown to their friends the couple proceeded to Aspinwall last Friday where a minister performed the ceremony After visiting briefly in Pittsburg with the mother of the groom, Mrs Mary Richards, formerly of Charleroi, the couple came to Charleroi.

Mr. Richards is employed by the Armour Packing company as a salesman and is a much respected young man. His bride is an estimable young woman and is a favorite among a large circle of acquaintances.

GOVERNOR AT AUSTIN

ACTION IS DEMANDED

As a result of Governor J K Tener's visit to the scene of the great flood disaster at Austin this week criminal prosecutions may develop from the testimony that will be presented at the inquest District Attorney Harry N. Nelson of Potter county wil hold today in the death of the men, women and children who lost their lives in the flood.

Starthng evidence that for nearly two years before it burst on last Saturday the Bayless dam was a constant menace to the thriving towns of Austin and Costello, the ruins of which are still strewn over five miles of the Sinnemahoning valley, is now in the possession of the State authorities.

"There will be a thorough investigation made by the State of the causes leading up to the collapse of the dam." Governor Tener said, after he had looked over the great sections of shattered concrete wall that are all that are left of the Bayless dam "The State of Pennsylvania will see that justice is done to these poor people who have lost their dear ones and their homes.

"The spectacle I have witnessed has indeed, been a sad one and I have been deeply touched by the distress and destruction which followed the flood. The State will do everything within its power to care for the families that have survived the disaster and to see that they are properly supplied with shelter, food and clothing"

Rain was falling from the sombre skies as the Governor walked along the mounds of debris or gazed on the valley of sorrow and devastation from the mountain sides. With him was Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, the State Health Commissioner; Adjutant General Stewart, General Fleitz, of the State

TWO ADDRESSES MADE

William Hamilton and Geo. W. Montgomery of Pittsburg, Are Speakers

Members of the Masonic fraternity from Charleroi and Monessen together with a number of members of other fraternities celebrated the 125th anniversary of the organization of the Pennsylvania Grand Lodge. Held under the auspices of Charleroi Lodge No. 615 and Monessen Lodge No. 638, the affair was one of the brilliaant functions of the year given by Masons. About 250 were present, many coming from distant parts of the State and from other States as well.

A pleasing program had been arranged and it was rendered under the direction of Charles S. McKean, worshipful master of the Charleroi lodge, This program consisted of music and addresses. The Masonic male quartet, from Monessen, consisting of James K Boyd, Eli H Wolfe. Calvin W. Stuck and George R Helmbolt rendered a number of selections and were generously received.

The first speaker on the program was William H. Hamilton of Pittsburg, district deputy grand master, and he spoke on the subject "The Day We Celebrate." His talk was on the theme of the history of the Pennsylvania grand lodge and among the facts mentioned by him was that the grand lodge of this state is the oldest in America It formerly took in New York and New Jersey, but now both those states have grand lodges of their own.

George W. Montgomery of Verona Lodge No. 548 spoke on "The Freemason in the Community in Which We Live." His talk was one full of interest to the Masons.

As a fitting conclusion to the evening's program a buffet lunch was served consisting of sandwiches, cake ice cream, coffee and other appetizing dainties.

Surprise on Birthday.

Miss Margaret Martin of Belle Vernon, was tendered a pleasant surprise party at the Province Hotel, Belle Vernon Thursday evening in honor of her 21st birthday. A number of out-of-town guests were present and an evening of enjoyment was spent Persons present from Charleroi were Frank Taylor, Leslie Woodward, Robert Hess. Lee Honsaker, Mrs. William Evans and two children, Mr. and Mrs Charles Stroud. Miss Martin received a number of beautiful and useful presents.

POSTPONE MEETING OF BUSINESS MEN

Owing to the Masonic celebration held by the Charleroi and Monessen lodges here Thursday night there was hardly a quorum present for the regularly scheduled meeting of the Business Men's Association. Adjournment was taken to some future time when the regular business will be taken up.

A COMPARISON.

John E. Gable, who for fifteen months has been editor of the Washington Record, has resigned his position there to take the managerial chair of the Johnstown Leader, a new daily newspaper that is to be launched in the flood city.. "By way of farewell," as Mr. Gable terms it he takes a parting shot at the Washington school board, the council, and other borough and county affairs. His valedictory to the school board and council is interesting, and might be used with profit as a comparison in Charleroi and any other municipality, for that matter. Along this line Mr. Gable says:

"The school board under the old law, was a good board. The new board, under the new code, should be better. To some the old board made progress too speedily. To others it appeared to be too slow, or even reactionary. That was a good sign. In the nation we have generally discovered that taking it by the large we are an aggregation of progressive standpatters and that we are glad of it. A school district is fortunate to be of the same temper. The prober who goes into the records will be astonished to find that the system which he thought was stationary, or retrogressive, has really been moving along just as rapidly as good judgment would warrant. In school affairs he must discover at once that the new code stands for an awakened public interest, and that it is the instrument by which tremendous improvement shall come in due time. But the man who is interested in schools has no more right to expect a new law to bring immediate revolution or evolution than the man is interested in good roads would have in demanding that the roads appear instanter when an appropriation is made. The school board was, and is now, a little in advance of the great public, but the board and the people are not so widely separated that either can lose sight of the other Both are truly progressive.

"The same conservative harmony exists largely between the people and borough and the county officers, but there is no such general interest in the routine work of the borough council as there is in the details of school government. The result is a less progressive council. It lacks the modern and correct view particularly in that it fails to keep the people fully informed as to its objects. It shows frequently that it prefers to work with the least noise or publicity and its system of handling important questions, such as franchises, tax levies and assessments, appropriations and large contracts is deplorably behind the times. Its rules are obsolete and its organization largely a farce. No great change, however, need be looked for until permanent and general results are secured throughout the entire state by a legislative revision of the form of government for boroughs of the size of Washington or until Washington makes up its mind to accept the excellent charter now provided for cities of the third class. During the last session of the General Assembly, when a fine bill for boroughs was pending, the people of Washington showed absolute indifference to its fate. This was largely due to the fact that they were not advised as to the advantages of a change. It was plain that the councilmen would be the last men in the town to see to it that such information was given, although probably every member of council will privately admit that the present system of government for the town is much poorer than the town deserves to have. This lack of genuine public interest in council, and the absence of such interest in the council for the public, is doubtless more apparent than real but something needs to be done now to make sure that by next fall the town will know whether it wants to instruct its representatives at Harrisburg to get definite results.

"The worst feature about the lack of active interest is that borough officials will naturally conclude that the public wants no real voice in its own affairs. Your councilmen now are good men, as are your borough officers, but they do not know what you want, and neither do you. The burgess is not exercising the powers which rightfully belong to his office. The chief of police has for years been handicapped by lack of authority and by a bad system which prevents the borough commissioners from disposing promptly of many petty cases now sent to court. The borough engineer should virtually be a director of public works, with full executive and administrative control of the streets and highways and all borough property leaving to council only its proper Legislative function. That there should be a radical change in the sytem of collecting, disbursing and accounting for borough taxes is generally admitted, but the admission indicates no real progress toward reform. A thorough understanding of the borough finances is essential to good administration. This the people do not now have and in the light of some official business it appears to be fairly doubtful if the councilmen themselves have it."

Some of Mr. Gable's recommendations are already in force in Charleroi, such as the borough engineer acting in the capacity so far as possible of a public director. Charleroi was the first to institute this important borough function, and her example is what perhaps inspired Mr. Gable's remarks along that line. The Charleroi council has also installed a system of accounting and auditing that is most simple and comprehensive, and which is being widely copied by other neighboring boroughs. The other reforms, such as better methods of collecting taxes, will have to come by Legislative enactment,

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"It was my duty not long ago to visit a purchasing board of a certain West Virginia college to sell them some goods," said a traveling salesman who stepped in the Mail office, "and while there I ran up against an experience that taught me a lesson in human nature. It also taught me a little common sense

"You know a traveling salesman's long suit most generally is telling stories. There were about seven on the purchasing board and after the list of purchases had been made out I sailed merrily in to relate a few anecdotes. The first ones would pass at a Sunday School rally but as I got into the spirit of the thing and the members of the board were beginning to laugh as though they enjoyed it, I tackled something a little more classic.

"Then I pulled a number that wouldn't pass at all in a religious gathering. At the last story the members of the board nearly split their sides, and I thought I had made a good impression.

"Going back to the hotel, I told my experiences of the day to a friend and he was horrified.

"'You certainly didn't tell those rotten stories to that board did you,?' he demanded.

"'Certainly, why not? They enjoyed them.'

"Well you're the limit. That was a bunch of Methodist ministers.'

"Then I recollected that it was the board of the West Virginia Wesleyan that had made the purchases and I made a few deductions. I was horrified and needless to say hastily shook the dust of that neighborhood from my feet. But it was necessary for me to go back some months afterwards and I met the president of the board on the street. As I was about to back up a side alley he laughed and remarked:

"'Well, have you any more jokes to tell us?'"

There's a little lad down on Fallowfield avenue—a four-year-old who can discount the experiences of Benjamin Franklin in paying too dear for his whistle by 100 per cent, and then some, when it comes to making a deal. The other day the little fellow who was visiting his grandmother, was given a whistle with liberty to go out in the front yard and blow it to his heart's content. After being absent awhile he returned, minus his whistle, but full of enthusiasm over a deal he had made.

"Oh, Grandma," he exclaimed. "I'm going to have another whistle. A boy came along and said if I'd give him my whistle he'd give me two whistles when he got some, so I give him mine, and now I'm going to get two."

BALD HEADS NOT WANTED

Baldness is Too Generally Considered a Sign of Advanced Age

A bald-headed person does not have an equal chance with one blessed with a healthy head of hair, because baldness is too generally accepted as an indication of age. Many large corporations have established an age limit and refuse to take men over 35 years of age as new employes.

Probably 65 per cent of bald-headed people may regain a good head of healthy hair if they will follow our advice and accept our offer. We have a remedy that we positively guarantee to grow hair on any head, unless the roots of the hair are entirely dead their follicles closed and the scalp has become glazed and shiny. We want people to try this remedy at our risk, with the distinct understanding that unless it does exactly what we claim it will and gives satisfastion in every respect, we shall make no charge for the remedy used during the trial.

We know exactly what we are talking about and with this offer back of our statements no one should scoff doubt our word, or hesitate to put our remedy to an actual test.

We want every one in Charleroi who is suffering from any scalp or hair trouble, dandruff, falling hair or baldness to try our Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We want them to use it regularly—say until three bottles have been used—and if it does not eradicate dandruff, cleanse and refresh the scalp, tighten the hair in its roots, and grow new hair, we will return every cent paid us for the remedy for the mere asking. There is no formality expected, and we exact no obligation from the user whatever.

We are established right here in Charleroi and make this offer with a full understanding that our business success entirely depends upon the sort of treatment we accord our customers and we would not dare make the above offer unless we were positively certain that we could substantiate it ine every particular. GOVERNOR AT AUSTIN

Water Commission; State Highway Commissioner Bigelow and other State officials.

"This is terrible," remarked the Governor, as he stood upon the verge of the valley and looked out upon the great heaps of wreckage, all that is left of the major portion of the town of Austin.

During his tour of the valley the Governor visited the Northern Pennsylvania Hospital, which is perched high upon a mountain slope overlooking the devastated valley. He went to the bedside of the men and women who had limbs broken or had otherwise been seriously injured as the flood raced down from the broken dam. He grasped each one by the hand and expressed a word of sympathy.

The men who have just taken a complete census of survivors and missing have placed the original number of the latter at 75 and according to their figures with 44 bodies already released from the clutch of the debris, not more than 31 more are scattered through it. Some of the latter may never be recovered, having either been burned to a crisp or buried under tons of mud and refuse.

These women are only a few of thousands of living witnesses of the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases. Not one of these women ever received compensation in any form for the use of their names in this advertisement—but are willing that we should refer to them because of the good they may do other suffering women to prove that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a reliable and honest medicine, and that the statements made in our advertisements regarding its merit are the truth and nothing but the truth.

Quaker Slang.

A visitor to Philadelphia, unfamiliar with the garb of the Society of Friends, was much interested in two demure and placid Quakeresses who took seats directly behind her in the Broad street station. After a few minutes' silence she was somewhat startled to hear a gentle voice inquire: "Sister Kate, will thee go to the counter and have a milk punch on me?"—Lippincott's.

A Physician's Report on Tuberculosis Medicine

"Have used Eckman's Alterative in several cases of tubercular glands of the neck, with excellent results every time. In one case it cost me $50, for the girl was put on it only until she could arrange to be operated, and in a short time an operation was not needed. I suppose your records are just as fine as of old. You know my faith in it."

Eckman's Alterative is effective in other forms. Read what Mrs. Garvin says:—

Idaho Falls, Idaho.

"Gentlemen: I have gained twenty-two pounds since last February and my baby is in perfect health. She is now four months old. I have been waiting since she was born to see how I would get along. I am now doing all my work, have been ever since she was four weeks old, and I am steadily gaining. I do not cough or raise anything at all. I believe my lung trouble is cured."

FRIDAY AFTERNOON CLUB ENTERTAINS IN HONOR OF TWO

Yesterday the Friday afternoon 500 club entertained in the parlor of the Elks Home in honor of Miss Laura M. Brown and Miss Hettie Davis, who will leave this month for their new home in Toledo. It is with keenest regret the friends of the Brown family see them depart from Charleroi, and many social affairs are occurring these autumn days to show in a measure the deep esteem in which those to depart soon are held by Charleron people. Seven tables were called into requisition and 28 ladies spent a most delightful afternoon. Refreshments were served by the chef at the Elks Club. After refreshments the members of the club presented Miss Brown with a handsome gold chain and pendant and Miss Davis with a gold bar pin as a memento of admiration and friendship for the honor guests. As a reward for attaining higest score, trophies were awarded Mrs. R. C. Mountsier, Mrs. Alden O. Davis and Mrs. James Sheppard.

TO GIVE AWAY WESTERN FARMS

California and Texas Lands to be Disposed of at Pittsburg Land Show

PRODUCTS ARRIVING

It will be of special interest to farmers and suburbanites in the Pittsburg territory to be informed that two Western farms will be given away during Pittsburg's Second Big Land Show in the Duquesne Garden from October 12 to 28. One of the farms is in the irrigated section of the Sacramento Valley, not a great distance from San Francisco, and the other is in one of the most fertile sections of Texas. Every visitor to the Land Show will have a chance in the drawings by which these farms will be disposed of. Both are of course, the donation of land interests that will have magnificent displays in this show, and both farms will be of such character and value as to positively justify the lucky owners in settling upon them at once, and taking up farm life and living, if this should be in harmony with their tastes. Further details about these free gifts will be published on the eve of the show. It is possible that a third free farm in Wyoming may yet be added to the attractions of the Land Show, but there is nothing definite to be said on this point now.

A telegram from Cheyene announces that two cars of Wyoming products are now ready for the land show, and will be shipped not later than October 6th. Six cars of West Virginia products are already in Pittsburg awaiting the opening of the show.

The staff of decorators preparing Duquesne Garden for the Land Show have been at work for a week, and when they shall have concluded their task, by the date of the opening, the Garden will comprise a collection of wonderful beauty from all quarters of this great country.

stitutions in the Pittsburg district would like to reduce the rate of interest on savings and time deposits to three per cent. As many of these banks are carrying large loans at five per cent, the margin of profit on funds drawing four per cent is rather narrow. This is particularly the case just now when the demand for desirable loans is limited.

In regard to the county funds, it is altogether probable that the big end of the $500,000 bond issue for road construction will be carried over until next year. The reason that this does not now draw interest is because the county treasurer did not promise it, or rather he made no contract with the county through the board of commissioners to pay interest on money that came into his custody other than through the usual sources of taxation. If what is carried over of the bond issue until next year were offered to the banks in the ordinary course of business that pay four per cent on time deposits and certificates of deposits taken out for a specified time, it is difficult to see how any bank could well refuse the ordinary rate of interest. On the other hand if the money is put up for bids the banks may form a "gentleman's agreement" and bid a lower rate

If the new treasurer, whoever he [illegible] would handle the funds for the interest of the county the same as he would if working for a private corporation or himself, he is likely to get more compensation for the public than if an effort is made before hand to establish a method of proceedure and fix a rate of interest. Left to his own devices, provided he would do so, the treasurer could undoubtedly by transacting the business in the same manner as an ordinary individual get four per cent for the county on all the idle funds that might be in his hands. The borough of Charleroi gets four per cent on a sinking fund it is accumulating for the payment of a bond issue, and all that was necessary to secure it was to deposit the money in the savings department of one of the local banks the same as an ordinary individual.

It is expected that there will be some interesting developments when the question comes up for adjustment after the new treasurer is installed into office.

Would the Ones Who Need the Articles be Enlightened?

WE THINK SO

Suppose some enterprising clothing store in Charleroi picked over its odds and ends of UNDERWEAR and advertised them at closing out prices at this season of the year, would the mothers who are watching the corners to conserve the family income take advantage of the opportunity?

Ask the Ladies Who Conduct Rummage Sales for Church Benefits

Would not the hosts of anxious mothers who are scanning the Pittsburg papers, morning and evening, for the odds and ends bargains to fit out their children for the winter rather buy this stuff at home instead of sending by messenger away for it?

Give Them the Opportunity and Note Results

You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink. People want what their pocket books can stand; not what the dealer thinks he would like to sell at a certain price.

The Way to Get Business is to Cater to the People and Offer Them What They Want and Can Pay For

This is why the big department store of the city cuts into the trade of the local dealer. The big store does not try to set a standard as to what goods the people shall buy. It carries what poor people can buy to make them comfortable. Local stores can do the same.

YOUNG WOMEN BEAT MEN IN CONTEST

As a climax to an interesting membership contest between the Young Men's class and the Young Women's class of the First Presbyterian Sunday school, a social and banquet was held Thursday evening. The social was held at the home of Daniel Gotheld, teacher of the Young Men's class and the banquet was served by the Ladies Aid society of the church in the lecture room of the church. A very enjoyable time was had In the contest the young women beat the young men by two to one. The contest lasted six months and the young men had to provide the banquet.

WOMEN TELL HOW MONEY WAS RAISED

Under the auspices of the Ladies Missionary circle of the Christian church a social was held Thursday evening. During the past few weeks an effort has been made by the women to raise money to carry on the missionary work and each woman was asked to bring in at least a dollar A feature of the social was descriptions of the methods taken ta raise the money.

Advice.

After a man is married he hates to sit in a hammock because it is likely to wrinkle his coat.

IT'S a good thing to buy your clothes as soon as the new goods are in; no use waiting; most men know what they're going to do about it long before they do it. Our new Fall stock of Hart Schaffner & Marx fine suits and overcoats is ready now; in good season for you men who have already decided just what clothes you're going to buy, and just the color and pattern you want.

You want a fancy weave suit; gray brown, or blue-gray; you want a blue serge suit, for a change; you want a raincoat, and an ulsterette. or a dress overcoat. We'll show you all you want in fabrics, patterns, colors, and models.

Some people eat too much, some drink to much and hundreds of thousands of men smoke too much—especially in the evening.

Use discretion if you can, but if you can't; use wisdom. Take two Mi-o-na stomach tablets before you go to bed and you'll awake minus a headache in the morning.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets are guaranteed to end indigestion acute or chronic; to promptly banish gas, heartburn, sour risings, etc. They are the best remedy for dizziness, biliousness, nervousness, headache, constipation, vomiting of pregnancy, car or sea sickness, foul breathe, nightsweats, bad dreams, coated tongue, languid feeling.

And a box costs 50 cents at Piper Bros., Charleroi and druggists everywhere.
